Summary/weekly reflection for Week 3:

This week, I focused on ensuring the web application's functionality and usability by working on the frontend and backend components. The key tasks involved finalizing Sprint 1, which included implementing a running and fully functional map feature, greatly enhancing user interaction. Additionally, significant improvements were made to the UI and UX, making the application more intuitive and user-friendly.

Key Tasks Done:

- Conducted team meetings and ensured coordination among team members.
- Finalized key elements for Sprint 1, specifically ensuring a properly functioning map interface.
- Improved the User Interface (UI) and User Experience (UX) significantly, aiming for better user interaction.
- Conducted a client meeting to review progress and gather feedback.

Key Learnings:

- Gained practical insights into integrating map features effectively into web applications.
- Enhanced skills in creating responsive and user-friendly designs, improving overall UX.

Literature Reviewed:

- Reviewed documentation on interactive map integration (e.g., Google Maps API).
- Studied best practices for UI/UX design to enhance application responsiveness and user engagement.

Issues/Problems:

- Encountered minor technical challenges in map integration, resolved through further research and collaboration with team members.
