Summary/weekly reflection for Week 7:

Key tasks done / things attended:

- Participated in a team meeting to coordinate progress and align goals.
- Contributed to sprint planning and task allocation for Sprint 3.
- Successfully completed the implementation of a Dual-language feature.
- Continued work on improving UI/UX and began implementing new features to enhance overall usability.

Key things learned about Engineering Technology Projects:

- Learned the importance of collaborative planning during sprint cycles for effective workload management.
- Gained insights into integrating multilingual support, which is vital for real estate platforms targeting diverse users.
- Understood the iterative nature of UI/UX development and how user feedback drives design improvements.

Any literature read and key things learned:

- Not explicitly mentioned in the log, but work on the Dual-language feature and UI/UX enhancement likely involved consulting relevant documentation and best practices in software internationalization and user experience design.

Issues/problems:

- Ongoing tasks such as sprint planning and UI/UX improvements indicate time-intensive work, possibly due to complexity or coordination challenges.
- Further refinement may be needed in UI implementation to meet usability goals.
